There will be a special meeting of the Lumpers, Boxers and Dockmen's union, No. 50, in Carpenters' hall, Wednesday evening, Sept. 28. Important business. B. A. Bylaw, V. P.

Among arrivals at the Hotel Otis yesterday were Marvin Slack, D. White, Troy, N. Y.; P. L. Wright, St. Albans; D. W. Waite, Bangor, Me.; Sidney Jacobson, New York; Louis Greenwood, Claremont, N. H.; E. A. Spofford, Everett, Mass.; L. E. Croft, A. C. Cutting, Richmond; G. A. Kelly, Burlington; H. O. Wilson, Clayton, N. Y.

"The Tower of Neals" at the Comique to-day is a film d'art. This is a picture which lingers in the memory and which anyone would enjoy seeing over and over again. This historical drama is taken from Alexander Dumas' famous novel with famous actors, M. Henri Kraus of the Sarah Bernhardt theatre, M. Alexandre and Mme. Andree Hugard as Marguerite of Burgundy, afterward the queen. "Gratitude" is a great story beautifully interpreted and makes an unusually splendid program.

The Baptist Sunbeam band held a very successful social in the church parlors last evening. A short program was rendered, which consisted of address of welcome, Miss Ruby Bradley, president of the class; a selection by the Bon Ami quartet, "Drink to Me Only"; organ solo, Miss Lena Baigrie; reading, "Curfew must not ring to-night," Miss Beatrice Beach; selection, Bon Ami quartet, "All through the night"; duet, Misses Wood and Harris; organ solo, Miss Ethel Inglis. The program was followed by games and social talk and the girls sold ice cream and college boxes.

Green and Weathers conclude their engagement at the Pavilion to-night. Their act is one of the kind that always pleases, combining as it does acrobatic skill on a single bicycle wheel, some very laughable comedy, and excellent singing. At four o'clock, if the weather permits, Mr. Green will appear on Main street and do some fancy riding. In spite of the bad weather, this act has been greeted by good crowds during its stay in town and will no doubt leave many admirers at its departure. The excellent pictures shown last night are worthy of special mention if space were available.

To-night everybody will have the opportunity of hearing the interesting account of a trip across the continent; the great Canadian Pacific system of irrigation, the thrilling mountain climbing of the Canadian Alps; the beauties of the garden of the world—California. An hour of travel for only a silver offering. The place: Heddin Methodist Episcopal church. Time, 7:30 p. m. Speaker, Dr. E. O. Thayer.

Mrs. Theresa Spinelli, wife of Louis Spinelli, who was recently bound over to the county court on the charge of keeping with the intent to sell, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Chief Faulkner on a warrant charging her with breach of the peace. She was brought into court yesterday afternoon and her case was continued until Thursday morning. She was allowed to go on her recognizance. The case is said to be the result of a neighborhood scrap.

L. Rizzi of Foss street, employed by the Leland Granite company, won the first prize of $3 in the clock contest of S. J. Segel & Co. The clock stopped last Saturday at 9:14. Mr. Rizzi's ticket was 5:34:50, which was the nearest to the time the clock stopped. The second prize of $2 was won by A. Anderson of 18 Seminary street, employed by McLeod, the blacksmith. His number was 5:34:50. This contest closed Saturday and this is the last prize to be given by S. J. Segel & Co., 301 North Main street, opposite Granite street.

WANT TO PLAN

and he requested that the council instruct the city engineer to give him a plan of where the sewer pipe will enter the basement, providing the sewer is laid by the Charles street route, so that this plumbing could be done and the work on the building continue. Mr. Lane said that the school commissioners did not have the power to extend the sewer by the Charles street route because of the objection raised by the Congregational church society of crossing the "common" property and that the city did have the power, so he appealed to the council to act in the matter as quickly as possible, so that the school building would not be held up.

Alderman Thurston said he supposed it had been decided to extend the sewer by the Camp street route, but Mr. Lane stated that the city engineer had decided that the Camp street route was not practicable, as a suitable fall could not be had and the Charles street route would be much the cheaper for the city.

The council then entered into a lengthy discussion on the question of getting the sewer across the "common" property. The mayor said that there were water pipes laid across the property which the church had never objected to, and he could not see that a sewer pipe would be any more damage to the property. He said that it looked to him as if the church society had some doubts as to their rights on the property by reason of the terms of the warranty deed which they hold, which stipulates that the property shall be used as a "common ground around a church," and the society now wanted to get the city to recognize them as the owners.

Alderman Thurston thought the same, and he also thought that there might be some other way of getting the sewer across this land other than by condemnation proceedings by the fact that the property had been so commonly used in the past and the church had apparently never exercised any authority over the property. On a motion of Alderman Alexander, it was finally voted to refer the question to the city attorney and find out whether the school commissioners could lay the sewer or the street committee would have to do it.
